We would like to continue building our team and are therefore looking for, among others, several:

IT Developer (f/m/d)

What is your job at YoY°?

It's your choice!

With us, you choose one or more areas of responsibility depending on your interests, skills and experience, for example from these:

- Development of mobile apps for IOS and Android based on React• JavaScript ideally with the following experience: node js, npm, react js and docker / kubernetes experience
- Development and conception of UI / UX, product management
- Ideally experience in the development of distributed systems (cloud development) and experience in the integration of APIs
- Independent implementation of smaller projects and team play for larger ones
- Learning from experienced colleagues and passing on your own knowledge

There is enough time and opportunity to familiarize yourself with the areas of your choice

Why is it fun to work with us?

- Free time management: The working time is free within the framework of the tasks taking on the job
- Home office option: You can work from home, you can choose your location: Luxembourg, Germany or Italy

- Direct customer contact only to the desired extent
- No dress code: dress however you like
- Exciting tasks in a company with an international focus
- It is possible to get a taste of other and new technologies
- Further education possible (and desirable!) Through training and certification
- Permanent employment contract
- You work on a solution with purpose that will lead to a better world

And what do we expect from you?

- Do you enjoy developing or consulting, but are you also good with people?
- You have completed vocational training or a degree, would you also like career changers?
- Would you like to work on your own projects and make your own decisions?
- Do you also like to work together in a team on large projects?
- Are you looking for an extremely innovative company that will support you in the long term?
- In addition to your mother tongue, you speak at least one other foreign language

You can find more job offers at <https://yoy.cool/index.php/en-us/career> , you can also pass this on to friends and acquaintances.

Curious?

We look forward to hearing from you, even if you are not looking for a specific new position right now. A personal conversation about the mutual opportunities is always worthwhile.

Send your application with salary expectations to hr@yoy.cool .

See you soon - we are looking forward to it!
